

ANNE FRANK,

MASSIVE OPEN ONLINE COURSE (MOOC)

Virtual World Dates: July 10, 17, 24th, 31, August 7 and 14th. 6-7pm Second Life (pacific Time)

This trend setting Massive Open Online Course is designed to bring teachers together using various 21st Century methodologies from Virtual Environments, to Twitter, Diigo, Google Hangout, Livebinder and iTunes U.

Many online courses still are structured so that the teacher is the knowledge giver, and the students are the knowledge receivers. This course brings in everyone as a teacher and contributor to the learning. Using various forms of social communication the teachers in this program will end up with a product that is peer reviewed and relevant to their curricular and student based needs. Our first MOOC will involve exploring the powerful and classic book, Diary of a Young Girl- Anne Frank.

Who would this be good for? Primarily this course is for any teacher that reads the book, or teaches the content area surrounding the book, i.e. Holocaust studies, World War II.

Teachers can register by going to :

<http://islandsoe.weebly.com/contact.html>

Just fill out the contact form and in the comments area note that you want to be a part of the Anne Frank MOOC. I will send you details on how to connect to the virtual world along with your avatar credentials.

iTunes U Companion Course: <https://itunesu.itunes.apple.com/audit/COK3C9A3X5>

Image of Anne Frank Signature

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/File:Anne_Frank_signature.svg